Chapter 1 by Thomas McCann

you were sent on a mission by NASA in 2276. Your mission was to explore the galaxies out of range of the Hubble telescope. It took you a year to reach your destination, but when you got there ... you crashed landed on a planet with highly intelligent life! you were sold into slavery to fight in their coliseum as a gladiator, and now you must fight your way off the planet

Chapter 2 by mindy bebee

The planet was like no other. It was all pink and purple. There were these umm... I guess you can call them giant pillars (must be about 200 feet tall). But anyway there was a strange aura that I felt coming from them.
